recyclable material

- Fact: Why Stainless Steel? Stainless steel scourers are more effective than synthetic fibers because the metallic edges provide mechanical "micro-shearing" of carbonised food particles.
- Cleaning Tip: Always use Spontex Superinox with water and a drop of grease-cutting dish soap. The lubrication prevents the steel from snagging and helps lift debris.
- Sustainability Note: Stainless steel is a highly recyclable material. Once your scourer has reached the end of its life, check your local recycling guidelines for metal waste.
- Pro Tip: To keep your scourer fresh, you can occasionally run it through the dishwasher to sanitise it and remove any trapped grease.

Caution: Do not use on delicate or non-stick surfaces, such as Teflon, polished aluminium, or plastic, as the abrasive nature of the steel may cause scratching.
